Regarding the figure #6 (a, b, c): for the next revision, please check if your figures containing maps/aerial images and photos require a copyright statement/image credit and add it to the figures (or captions) (https://publications.copernicus.org/for_authors/manuscript_preparation.html#mapsaerials, https://publications.copernicus.org/for_authors/manuscript_preparation.html#figurestables -> Reproduction and reuse of figures and tables). If these figures were entirely created by the authors, there is no need to add a copyright statement or credit. In that case it is important that you confirm this explicitly by email.

Response: All the photos/figures are created by authors and there is no need to add a copyright statement or credit.
