

Author's response to editor's comments

As far as I can tell, you have not responded to Reviewer 2's suggestion to include in the manuscript some of the material discussing the ANDRO product that you put in the responses to reviewers? Apologies if I missed this. It would be good to include brief mention of this to help your future readers?

Thank-you for the suggestion. We have added notes in the geostrophic transports section [line 206] and in the bottom Ekman section [line 435] explaining why we didn't consider the ANDRO product to be suitable for our analysis.
