Dear reviewer:

Thank you for providing many constructive suggestions. Replacing NaCl in the pore water by K$_2$SO$_4$ is really a good suggestion, because SO$_4^{2-}$ is less damaging to the soil structure compared to Cl$^-$, so this might be a better way to assess the role of different cations.

Thanks again.