

Thank you for the revised manuscript. There are still a few points that need to be clarified:

Line 260/Figure 2: The way this is worded is still unclear as it now sounds like the green/yellow points are in Figure 3, rather than figure 2. Please rephrase this sentence.

Figure 4: Even though March is the only month when the two stations do not have diurnal increasing rates that agree within error, there is clearly a bias between the rates from January to May, that does not exist during the rest of the year. It is worth discussing possible reasons for this bias. In addition, if you think that March is an outlier, is the problem with Zugspitze or with Garmisch, and why?

Line 332: If you are only going to mention the main reason the text should probably not say “beside others”