

Fig: Number of models that disagree with the multi-model mean shown in Fig. 2. For these models the difference in the number of events between the historical and the scenario period is statistically significant at the 95% level but of the opposite sign.