

In the abstract, it still says “Global Prediction System (GFS)” which is not correct. The acronym is Global Forecast System.

Figure 1: It’s pretty hard to see the provincial boundaries. Partly because of the black dots, and partly because of the dark blue background. Maybe they could be made thicker to better highlight the regions.