

Dear Editor and Reviewers,

Greetings! We would like to express our heartfelt gratitude for your final decision to accept our paper. We greatly appreciate your hard work and the time you have dedicated to reviewing and guiding our research.

Based on your comments and the journal's requirements, we have made the following modifications in the final submitted version of the paper:

1. Reference Formatting: In line with your suggestions and the journal's requirements, we have revised the references at the end of the paper as well as their citations throughout the main text. We have provided the full names of the authors and corrected the formatting in the reference list.
2. Acknowledgment Formatting: We have reviewed the formatting of the acknowledgment section and updated it according to the latest requirements provided by the platform that supported our computational resources.
3. Figures: We have reviewed the figures and figure captions in the paper, and made specific adjustments to improve clarity. In Figure 1, we have bolded the provincial boundary of Jiangxi to more clearly highlight the study area. In Figure 2, we have added a red box to indicate the data analysis region referenced later in the text.

Thank you once again for your invaluable support and feedback throughout the review process.

Sincerely,

Yi Li
