

I thank the authors for their meticulous revisions, which resulted in an interesting and easily readable text. All my comments have been addressed and I recommend accepting the new manuscript version for publication.