

Response to reviewer #2:

The introduction has been extended, in particular in the fifth paragraph, with some context about machine learning in atmospheric sciences. It now explains more clearly the advantages of ML to perform ice particle classification based on OAP images. In addition, the abstract has been improved to more clearly reflect what is the content of the article.