We thank the reviewer and the editor for their consideration and time taken to review our manuscript. Because the manuscript was accepted as is for publication, we made no changes to the text. The order of the supplementary material was slightly changed to align with when they are referenced in the main text, and references were adjusted accordingly.

In response to the suggestion from the previous file verification process, we modified the color scheme and symbology in Figure 11 to be more colorblind-friendly using the Coblis tool. The content and layout of the figure itself is unchanged.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any further questions or concerns regarding our paper and the files included in the final submission.

Sincerely,
Rainey Aberle
