

Dear Simon,

as discussed, we changed the MITRAS version number in the title of the manuscript from 4.0 to 3.3.

We first chose version number 4.0, because the versions used in the manuscript all contribute to version 4.0. However, version 4.0 itself was not applied, as it also includes features not relevant to this study. To avoid confusion, the version number in the title was changed to the newest one, which was used in the paper.
