

Dear authors,

The reviewers are satisfied with the modifications introduced to the manuscript and can be accepted for publication.

I have noticed that sometimes the units for LAI are reported as m^2/m^2 while other units are reported as $x\ y^{-1}$, etc.

Please use only one notation, and I suggest using the second.

Following the editor's suggestion, we modified the unit format in the main text, figures, and supplementary material.

In Figure 8, please use LAI to denote the y-axis for the first panel of each row.

We changed the figure accordingly. We made the same changes in the supplementary Figures S5, S6, and S7.