

We thank the reviewer and editor for the comments and suggestions for improvement.

We have once more carefully checked the manuscript and hopefully improved the readability.

We have also asked a native speaker to flag any unnecessarily convoluted sentences, which resulted in minor changes and grammar corrections all over the manuscript and have added the link to the jupyter notebook and training data sets on Zenodo.

We hope that the current version is now acceptable for publication.

On behalf of the authors

Jörg Ebbing