

Dear authors,

I am pleased to accept your manuscript for publication in Biogeosciences.
I indicated that technical corrections are still needed because I found the following typos:
Before final processing, please carefully check the manuscript and correct the following remaining minor typographical issues in the clean version:

Line 101: “beng very large” → being very large

Line 240: “

” → content and

Line 246-7: duplicated word “the the” in the sentence discussing CO₂ emissions under anoxic conditions

In the same section, the 2 of CO₂ should be in subscript.

Please use this opportunity to carefully check the text for typographical or formatting issues before submitting your final files.

Kind regards,
Sara

Response:

Dear Sara,

I am sorry for the typos etc. I seem to have trouble see duplicates and typos when using track changes. I have corrected all the errors that you pointed out and a couple of others that I found.

I hope that there are no others.

Sincerely,

Naoise
