Supplement. Site Photos Illustrating Canopy Conditions of the Four Study Sites
