

Notes on resubmitting revision

Associate Editor Comment — Without hesitation, it is essential research. Both the authors and reviewers performed a large amount of work

I have only one technical correction.

It seems to me that this manuscript has some common roots with the work Eppelbaum, L.V., 2014. Geophysical observations at archaeological sites: Estimating informational content. Archaeological Prospection, 21, No. 2, 25-38.

Reply: Dear editor,

Thank you for handling our paper and suggesting the additional reference. However, as its relevance to our paper about geoscientific databases is limited, we decided not to include it. Best regards
