

Dear Editor,

Thank you very much for your careful evaluation of our revised manuscript and for your constructive comments.

We have addressed the remaining points raised in your message. Specifically, we removed the bold formatting from Table 1 as indicated in our previous response to the reviewers, and revised the abstract to present a more balanced description of the performance of XGBoost, ensuring consistency with the more nuanced comparison provided in the main text.

We hope that the manuscript is now suitable for acceptance.

Kind regards,
