

Response to general correction comments

We thank the editor for pointing this out. We have updated the Zenodo archive to include the benchmark scripts, input-data generators, and reproduction instructions, in addition to the archived software versions. We have also revised the Code and Data Availability section to add the DOI link to the Zenodo record. Finally, we have updated the reference list so that preprints are cited with DOI information where applicable.